Spring Basket Assistance

General Description:

Our Spring Basket Drive has begun! Each spring, the social workers at Denver Human Services select needy children and elderly and disabled adults who are in dire need of spring gift baskets. This annual gift basket fundraiser reaches over 2,000 disadvantaged clients of Denver Human Services.

The children who receive our Spring Gift Baskets have been referred to our agency because they have suffered from or may be at risk for abuse and neglect. As our agency works with their parents and families to help them address these issues, this project allows us to bring a bit of joy into their lives. The importance of celebrating holidays and fulfilling special needs can often be overlooked or underestimated when clients face crisis situations. For a small number of our elderly and disabled who are isolated or homebound, a gift basket can really raise their spirits.

We will also be providing gifts to our clients who celebrate Passover. These will be children as well as the elderly or disabled, who are referred to us by their social workers.

Requirements:

We are looking for groups or individuals who can help our program by coming in to assemble Spring Baskets. These baskets will then be matched with referrals from social workers and delivered to clients' homes. This opportunity is available during the weeks of March 21 through April 8.

Deputy Manager of Aviation - Facility & Fleet Management DIA	Unlimited Regular	$102,184 - $163,062	02/13/12	Continuous

Job Description:

Denver International Airport (DIA) is seeking our next Deputy Manager of Aviation - Facility & Fleet Management (Executive).

This is an exceptional opportunity for an experienced executive to oversee and drive strategic implementations as we refine our airport facility and fleet operations. The selected individual will function as a member of the executive leadership team of the airport, as an executive liaison to the airlines and other tenants, oversee personnel operations, divisional safety programs, metrics development and formalize the asset/capital management program.

The Deputy Manager of Aviation – Facility & Fleet Management reports to the head of the airport, the Manager of Aviation, and will lead a team of six Directors that manage approximately 500 employees and a $125 million annual operating budget. Business operational areas include maintenance service contracts as well as the management, maintenance and repair for the following: airport facilities and structures; airfield operating areas; landside areas; vehicular fleet; maintenance control and services; safety systems; electrical, mechanical, HVAC, plumbing and power plant systems and equipment.

Denver International Airport is the 10th-busiest airport in the world, and the fifth-busiest airport in the United States. We offer an extraordinary opportunity as the scale of our operation spans 53 square miles, over 1.5 million square feet of terminal space, a 53 million annual passenger traffic load and North America's longest commercial runway at 16,000 feet. Additionally, we are breaking ground on a substantial project which includes a major hotel and commuter-rail station. As the nation's newest major airport and with the geographic size of our operation, we have the capacity to double in size and are well-poised for future growth as the portal for the Rocky Mountain Region and a key link for products and people in the world. DIA is one of the busiest hubs in the world and is the primary economic engine of the state of Colorado, generating $22 billion for the region .

Besides our great location and people, as employees of Denver International Airport, we are privileged to enjoy progressive leadership, very competitive benefits and an environment that believes in supporting its employees as our slogan is, "Together We Soar." Our core values at DIA are transparency, collaboration, mutual respect and support, diversity, integrity, trust and organizational excellence. Our successful candidate will need to demonstrate that these are core operating principles upon which his/her career has been based as well.

Denver is known for great living: we enjoy over 300 days of sunshine and tout a population reflecting some of the healthiest, most highly-educated and vibrant people ranked in the US. We also have the additional benefit of our beautiful location being nestled against the Rocky Mountains.

We're looking for an accomplished, intelligent, experienced facility and fleet leadership executive who thrives in a complex, visible, expansive operational environment presenting a variety of opportunities and challenges. The ideal candidate will bring over five years of executive level maintenance management experience in a comparably sized operation, formal asset management program development/management, prior aviation/airline operational experience in a snow region, media relations/communications experience and familiarity with public sector/political organizations.

Interested? Please review the requirements of the role and present your qualifications for consideration by selecting the 'Apply' at the top of the posting.

Job Responsibilities:

The Deputy Manager of Aviation for Facility & Fleet Management reports to the Manager of Aviation and has the following responsibilities:

- Is a member of the airport's executive leadership team and works collaboratively to support the airport's overall strategic plan.

- Directs and manages the Facility & Fleet Division, and represents the division working with airport management and stakeholders.
- Works with customers with divergent priorities and sets priorities for moving forward. Provides advice to internal and external stakeholders with regard to maintenance related issues.
- Determines and implements the strategic initiatives, goals, and objectives of the Maintenance Division. Develops and establishes policies and procedures, performance standards, and operating guidelines.
- Ensures that work is performed in a manner that ensures the safety of our employees, stakeholders, and the traveling public.
- Leads the development and implementation of technical initiatives that will optimize employee productivity and the useful life of technical systems and equipment.
- Establishes sound business approaches for allocating and utilizing the division's resources.
- Develops and implements a succession plan and works to optimize the performance of staff through training and development initiatives.
- Implements a communications program that provides employees with airport, division, and industry related information on a routine basis.

Director of Environmental Programs at Denver International Airport	Unlimited Regular	$88,755 - $141,586	05/24/12	06/07/12

Job Description:

Denver International Airport (DIA) is looking for a Director of Environmental Programs to join our team.

This is a phenomenal opportunity to lead an Internationally recognized aviation environmental program that has an ISO 14001 Environmental Management System (EMS) and is in the process of establishing a sustainability management plan.

The Director of Environmental Programs reports to the Deputy Manager of Aviation – Planning & Development and will lead our team of 13 professionals who are highly effective and focused on environmental compliance, design, implementation and remediation in a very complex environment involving Federal, State and Local regulations from multiple agencies. This focus on environmental programs demonstrates executive recognition of environmental program priority as our safety programs are handled by a separate division. We are looking for the next individual to continue our leading-edge initiatives through:

- Continued program success demonstrated via regulatory compliance
- Inter and Intra-Departmental collaboration at multiple levels
- Regulatory Agency communication and coordination
- Conference participation and presentations
- Organizational membership and leadership roles

Denver International Airport offers exceptional opportunities as the scale of our operation spans 53 square miles, over 1.5 million square feet of terminal space and a 50 million annual passenger capacity. We are ranked as the 4th busiest airport in the nation and 10th busiest in the world. This reflects noteworthy complexities as we handle all environmental aspects of planning, design and implementation for: air, trash, recycling, oil and gas, solid waste, storage tanks/facilities and water management. Additionally, we are getting ready to break ground on a substantial expansion project which includes a major ground transportation component involving commuter-rail. The geographic size of our operation provides us with a continual opportunity for new design work that few airports enjoy.

Denver is known for great living: we enjoy over 300 days of sunshine and tout a population reflecting some of the healthiest, most highly-educated and vibrant people ranked in the US. We also have the additional benefit of our beautiful location being nestled against the Rocky Mountains.

Besides our great location and people, as an employee of Denver International Airport, we are privileged to enjoy progressive leadership, very competitive benefits and an environment that believes in supporting its employees.

We're looking for the individual who brings substantial environmental regulatory knowledge, technical implementation knowledge, a genuine enthusiasm for environmental programs, demonstrated management/leadership skill and a passion for networking at all levels. Aviation Environmental knowledge will be considered a substantial plus.

Interested? Please review the requirements of the role and present your qualifications for consideration.

Job Responsibilities:

- Provides regular communication to multiple levels of subordinate and senior management
- Represents the department in explanation and presentations regarding strategic and technical plan decisions, actions and recommendations to internal and external audiences
- EMS / 14001 Management Representative: maintains EMS and ISO 14001 certifications which includes direct responsibility for internal / external reviews, management reviews, continual improvement, education and outreach
- Sustainability Program: responsible for program development, implementation and maintenance
- Prepares, presents and manages the operational budget
- Contract management from initiation through resolution
- Responsible for personnel management including: hiring, coaching, mentoring, annual reviews and discipline

- Champions organizational change and best practices that support continuous improvement, including devising new strategies for new opportunities
- Recommends projects, programs and procedures to achieve strategic and organizational objectives
- Coordinates and collaborates with legal representatives
- Promotes employee retention and prepares staffing plans to meet organizational requirements
- Develops, guides and manages training and performance plans for subordinate supervisors
- Recommends, develops and manages all environmental compliance initiatives and reporting

The formal job description is listed under Job Specifications on our website: www.denvergov.org/jobs

Qualifications:

Required Experience (Minimum):

- Three years of professional experience managing environmental programs
- Three years of experience managing professional staff
- Experience developing and delivering environmental program presentations
- Environmental regulatory knowledge that spans more than one level of government (Federal, State, Local) and/or more than one agency (FAA, EPA, CDPHE, etc)

Preferred Experience:

- A minimum of 5 years experience managing a large-scale aviation environmental program including professional level Supervisors and Staff
- FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) Environmental Regulation Expertise

Seasonal Park Ranger	On Call Regular	$16.98 - $24.79 hourly	02/15/12	07/31/12

Job Description:

Denver's Parks and Recreation Department is seeking Seasonal Park Rangers to educate the public and patrol in Denver's parks, natural areas, and trails for the 2012 Season.

This is a great opportunity to gain hands-on experience working for one the largest park programs in the region. We're looking for people who enjoy engaging with the public and have a genuine interest in natural resource management whether that means delivering wildlife education or enforcing necessary guidelines.

Seasonal Park Rangers will be hired for positions that generally last from 6 to 11 months and range in hours from 16 to 39 hours per week, depending on department needs. Assignments may vary depending on weather and events, and will focus on high use times including evenings, holidays, and weekends. Therefore, all applicants must be willing to work evenings, holidays and weekends.

Park Rangers provide visitor services, protect park resources, and enhance use through enforcement, education, maintenance, work on natural resource projects, and assistance with medical and other incidents.

Our Rangers wear many different hats from environmental educator to officer to medic. Because of this, they need to be comfortable and professional working in and switching instantly back and forth from low-key situations to highly stressful and challenging situations.

Some positions will focus on leading groups of volunteers to build and maintain trails as well as educating groups on the wildlife and surrounding areas - so please be certain to list your interest and experience in these areas on your application.

The City and County of Denver boasts one of the most expansive and diverse park systems in the Rocky Mountain West offering over 14,000 acres of Mountain Parks, more than 250 urban parks and parkways, and over 80 miles of trails. Many Denver Mountain Parks, such as Red Rocks, Genesee, Daniels, Summit Lake, Echo Lake, and Dedisse, have been established and protected for about 100 years!

If you're interested in a position that is challenging, exciting, and offers the satisfaction of giving back to the community, then the Denver Park Ranger Program might be right for you.

Interested? Please review the entire posting and then click the 'Apply' button at the top of this page and/or visit: www.denvergov.org/jobs .

Job Responsibilities:

Essential Duties and general Responsibilities:

- Monitors facilities/parks (urban and mountain) for user compliance with applicable rules and regulations.
